

Become a Knowledge Circle Partner

Help advance practical learning, peer exchange, and stronger public financial management.

ICGFM Knowledge Circles are designed to bring members, practitioners, and trusted partners together around timely public financial management challenges.

As a Knowledge Circle Partner, your organization helps support focused programming that connects real-world experience with practical insight. These forums create space for candid discussion, peer learning, applied case examples, and action-oriented programming that responds to the needs of ICGFM members.

Knowledge Circle Partners help make these conversations possible while gaining visibility as contributors to meaningful professional exchange and thought leadership within the global PFM community.

As a Knowledge Circle Partner, You Help Support:

- Public webinars, panels, and roundtables
- Members-only discussions and technical briefings
- ICGFM Conference sessions and programming
- Practical guidance, issue briefs, and case-based learning
- Member-driven topic development and follow-up activities

Partner Contribution

$3,000 annually

Your contribution supports program development, coordination, event logistics, facilitation, branding, partner recognition, and integration of Knowledge Circle programming into ICGFM's broader member offerings.

Partner Benefits

Knowledge Circle Partners have the opportunity to:

- Help shape priority topics and discussion themes
- Contribute expertise to selected events and discussions
- Engage with ICGFM members and senior practitioners
- Gain recognition as a Knowledge Circle Partner
- Support practical, member-focused learning across the PFM community

PROGRAM FOCUS EXAMPLE

Knowledge Circle on Natural Resources

One of ICGFM's first Knowledge Circle programs will focus on public finance and governance challenges across the natural resource sector.

This Knowledge Circle will explore timely issues related to:

- Critical minerals and mining
- Petroleum and gas
- Resource-linked infrastructure
- Revenue administration and oversight
- Fiscal risk management
- Contractual structures
- Cost recovery, auditing, and controls
- Asset transfers and state participation risks

Programming may include public events, members-only discussions, conference sessions, technical exchanges, and practical learning opportunities shaped by member needs and partner expertise.

Partner with ICGFM to turn complex PFM challenges into practical learning.
