

Call for Speakers/Panels/Papers

PFM Impact on Sectoral Service Delivery

ICGFM Winter Training Conference, December 2 - 4, 2019
Washington, DC USA

A dedicated focus on Public Financial Management Reform and capacity development improves the skills of the Ministry of Finance, improves how the country's public finances are used, and helps governments make good decisions at the right time. Ultimately, an improved financial management system, with strong management of public finances, benefits all citizens due to effective delivery of public services including education, health care, energy, environmental, and justice programs. ICGFM seeks proposals for case studies where sectoral service delivery has been enhanced due to improvements in public financial management.

The Sustainable Development Goals prominently feature institutions both as a cross-cutting issue and a standalone goal in sustainable development goal 16 (SDG 16). SDG 16 details institutional principles such as, access to information, transparency, accountability, anti-corruption, inclusiveness in decision making, and non-discrimination which are important for the development of effective and focused programs. In addition, risk management, including cyber risk management, provides the needed disciplines to plan and manage public programs while securing sensitive information. Presentations should provide examination of how all or some of these principles were deployed to improve sectoral deliver and improve the citizen experience.

ICGFM desires to present case studies of effective reforms and welcomes success stories from country reform leaders, bi-lateral and multilateral organizations, leading consultancies and other experts. ICGFM solicits proposals for speakers/panels/papers/case studies that demonstrate efforts toward using PFM initiatives to improve the business environment and enhance citizen engagement for its upcoming Winter Training Conference to be held at the International Monetary Fund in Washington, DC, USA.

DEADLINE FOR SUBMITTING PROPOSALS: September 15, 2019.

Selected presenters from the public and non-profit sector may be awarded a stipend and given an opportunity to publish their case studies in the ICGFM Journal.
